Compounding the problem has been declining school enrollments of nearly 130,000 K-12 students in the past five n-12 students in the past five years and projected declines of another 200,000 over the next half decade, he said. Those dwindling student enrollments sap a district's state school aid dollars.

The law Porter will seek in 1977 would let local school dis tricts levy an income tax without a public vote as an emergency provision if two miliage proposals had been defeated in the preceeding six "Current policies seem to operate on a 'feast or famine basis that is too closely related to the economy of a state which , is primarily tied to the au tomobile industry," Porter said. The time has come to give districts more financial flexibility, he said.

But overall, the year held more pluses for schools than minuses, Porter said. Among the high points be light. the high points he listed were:

-Fewer teacher strikes -— in 1976 than at any time in the last decade.

-Detroit's peaceful busing plan, which began in January 1976. The city is the largest district in the nation to operate under a court-ordered desegregation plan.

The 20th anniversary of a landmark law mandating driver education for all eligible youths under 18. Since the law - the first of its kind in the nation was passed, nearly three million Michigan teenagers have Michigan teenagers ha enrolled and learned to drive.

But minuses included enrollments that continued to drop in elementary and secondary schools and institutions of higher education.

Also, a study of textbooks used by Michigan high school government classes found "a large number of inadequacies" in the portrayal of women and racial and ethnic minorities. Another study found state funding for colleges and universities was inequitable and provided differing amounts of funds per students at the schools.

Were it left to me to decide whether we should have government without wispapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate to prefer a latter. — Thomas Jefferson.

The U.S. Senate's Conscience Passes On

Senator announced he would not seek re-election in 1976, saying the time had come for a younger man to struggle with the Washington power structure.

He expressed the hope to devote his remaining active years to writing and teaching, and also to act as something of an obmudsman for the private individual finding it beyond his resources to cope with the capitol's peculiar ways of serving the public. Cancer setting in a few months ago and spreading rapidly cancelled those plans this past Sunday afternoon for Philip A. Hart.

A native of Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania, he adopted Michigan as his home state upon his enrollment at the

that residence.
Hart and Soapy Williams became fast friends in their law school days and it was Williams who launched his companion on a political career, first as a one-term lieutenant governor to which Hart was elected in 1956 and then as U.S. Senator in 1958.

Hart's opponent that year was Charles Potter, another World War II veteran with a distinguished battle record who swept into office during the 1952 Eisenhower landslide

Potter committed the fatal mistake of neglecting the home front. Sensing this disenchantment among the Republicans, Williams and the Democratic party leaders numinated the extremely personable Hart. The combination paid off handsomely.

Hart's second and third efforts for re-election were automatic successes and had he chosen to run for a fourth term this year, the result would have been the same. His first concern was with domestic problems, matters such as civil rights, consumer protection, aid to the poor, and monopoly disturbances in the

Electric Power Firms' Rate Increases Blasted

Editor,
I would like to have you reprint this copy of my letter to Governor Milliken as I feel it would be of interest to area residents.

Thank You Rt 1 Box 306

Dear Governor Milliken.

A recent article in our local paper was headlined 'N-Plant Refueling May Boost Bills'; this article was in the December 13th edition of The Herald-Palladium serving the St. Joseph-Benton Harbor area and most of Berrien county.

The recent rate increase granted by the MPSC in September of this year to the l&M Electric Company has boosted our electric bill about 33 per cent. This, on top of the increase of 23 per cent granted by the MPSC to 18 M in June of 1975, has increased our bill almost seven weeks the Donald C. Cook nuclear plant will be shut down for reloading the nuclear reac-tor and that I&M will have to purchase power from the American Electric Power Com-pany and that consumers can expect higher bills.

This comes at a time of peak use when our bills are at the highest point; my own bill normally during this period will run about 185 dollars per month. It is ludicrous to me that the MPSC permit I&M to do this to the public at the time most disadvantageous to the consumer. Surely the summer or fall months would have been a more appropriate time and the costs to all involved would have been lower and a little less painful but 1&M in their arrogance, seemingly blessed the MPSC has done it again 1&M has stated that all users costs during the shutdown period will go up due to the purchase of fuel from the American Electric Power Company, the cost to be passed long as a fuel-cost adjustment. To quote Robert Jurgensen, manager of the Cook plants We generate power more cheaply than the rest of the system. Normally, we have to pay more to buy it from the pool than it costs us to generate it."

It's ironic that I&M sells its (our) power cheaper to its parent company, the American Electric Power Company, and then turns around and buys from the American Electric Power Company at a higher price to resell to the public at again a much higher price Again, another irony is that for the past two years when the people of our three involved counties, Cass, Van Buren and Berrien, have been terribly suffering through an economic depression, we have grown accustomed to the earnings per-formance of I&M paying successively greater dividends to their parent company, the American Electric Power Company, and then to watch the American Electric Power Company declare consistently greater dividends than the previous year. Where does it all end! Obviously the MPSC is not doing the job of being fair to the consuming public. It is apparent that the MPSC has reased to function as an unbiased regulatory agency and has evolved into an agency that has extended their protective umbrella to the I&M Electric Company and the American Electric Power Com-pany. While at the hearings held at Lansing this past June on the then-proposed rate increase, which after going through the motions, was granted in Sep-tember, it became very obvious by listening to the MPSC staff that their sympathy and favor was definitely extended to I&M. (See page 27, column 4)

At present, there are $-10 million illegal immigrants in the United States. The spread in those figures is merely one in-dication of the extent to which the problem has stipped out of control.

About two-thirds of these illegal immigrants are Mexicans, and most of the rest come from the birth-explosion countries of the Caribbean and countries of the Caribbean and elsewhere in Latin America. Just before it recessed, Congress passed a $3.5 billion jobs bill designed to create 300,000 new jobs. At least half that number of Latino migrants slip into the U.S. each year looking for work.

What is now happening along the U.S.-Mexican border is clear enough. American per capita gross national product is around $6,000. For a Mexican, it is $740. Mexico also has one of the highest birth rates in the world its population doubling every 20 years. Population growth in the U.S. is a meager 0.9 per cent. The world rate is something like 1.9 per cent. Hold your breath:

in Mexico it is 3.2 per cent.

Current pulitical and social turnoil in Mexico has not, generally speaking, been put in menacing terms by the media here. When outgoing Mexican President Luis Echeverria suddenly expropriated 1.5 million acres and turned them over to landless peasants he did not du it out of the goodness of his heart or even out of ideology. He did it because population is beginning to burst Mexico at its

Major Carter Problem:

Social Security Overhaul

During his election campaign, Carter opposed proposals to raise payroll taxes to pump more money into the Social Security system, arguing that such action would place a greater burden on the average wage earner and would not insure more benefits. Instead, he said he would concentrate on cutting unemployment and inflation in an attempt to bring the system into better balance. If the deficits continued, Carter said, he would support increases in the taxable wage earnings base. The base already scheduled to rise from $15,300 to $16,500 a year beginning Jan. 1, and is expected to produce an additional $2.3-billion in tax revenue next year.

A major cause of increasing costs in the Social Security system is a 1973 law designed to protect retired beneficiaries against inflation. The law, which ties benefit increases to rises in the cost of living, actually adjusts benefits at twice the rate of "This happens because inflation. benefits are already tied to wages," Treasury Secretary William E. Simon explained in The Wall Street Journal (Nov. 3, 1976), "and on the average whenever the cost of living goes up, wages go up too." According to projections, elimination of this "coupling" effect, as it is called, erase about half of the longrange deficit in the Social Security As government officials deliberate on the issue of Social Security financing, there is little danger that the system will go "bankrupt," as is sometimes predicted, or that it will be unable to meet future obligations. For the federal government always retains the ability to tax future retirees and therefore stand behind its payment obligations. Unless the financing system is restructured, however, the costs could be enormous.

The U.S. Senate's Conscience Passes On

Over a year ago Michigan's senior Senator announced he would not seek re-election in 1976, saying the time had come for a younger man to struggle with the Washington power structure.

He expressed the hope to devote his remaining active years to writing and teaching, and also to act as something of an obmudsman for the private individual finding it beyond his resources to cope with the capitol's peculiar ways of serving the public.

Cancer setting in a few months ago and spreading rapidly cancelled those plans this past Sunday afternoon for Philip A. Hart.

A native of Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania, he adopted Michigan as his home state upon his enrollment at the U-M law in 1934.

World War II in which he served with distinction in the 4th Infantry Division only temporarily interrupted that residence.

Hart and Soapy Williams became fast friends in their law school days and it was Williams who launched his companion on a political career, first as a one-term lieutenant governor to which Hart was elected in 1956 and then as U.S. Senator in 1958.

Hart's opponent that year was Charles Potter, another World War II veteran with a distinguished battle record who swept into office during the 1952 Eisenhower landslide.

Potter committed the fatal mistake of neglecting the home front. Sensing this disenchantment among the Republicans, Williams and Democratic party leaders nominated the extremely personable Hart. The combination paid off handsomely.

Hart's second and third efforts for re-election were automatic successes and had he chosen to run for a fourth term this year, the result would have been the same. His first concern was with domestic problems, matters such as civil rights, consumer protection, aid to the poor, and monopoly disturbances in the

When outgoing Mexican President Luis Echeverria suddenly expropriated 1.5 million acres and turned them over to landless peasants he did not do it out of the goodness of his heart or even out of ideology. He did it because population is beginning to burst Mexico at its seams.

The border between the U.S. and Mexico is now patrolled by 1,700 men, able to stop, according to best estimates, one out of every three or four illegal entrants.

According to the Census Bureau, Spanish is now by a wide margin the leading foreign language spoken in the United States. Spanish-speaking citizens, here legally, are certainly welcome and they have made a huge contribution.

Miami has been transformed by its vibrant Cuban community, and transformed for the better, in my view.

Given the population explosion and incompetent politics south of the border, the Carter administration faces some clear choices. No matter how many border patrol personnel are added to the present thin line, the incentives will remain great to slip into the U.S. illegally. It would take an enormous force to patrol the

U.S.-Mexican border from Baja

California and all along the Gulf coast. The way to discourage illegal immigration - which now amounts virtually to an invasion is to make it impossible for an illegal immigrant to be employed. Severe penalties should be imposed upon employers who use these people. The very illegality of an alien makes him or her easy prey to an employer who would avoid the usual regulations regarding compensation.

This year, campaigning in Texas, Jimmy Carter promised to support a bill penalizing employment of illegal aliens. Let us now see whether this is one of those things that, as Carter often said of his campaign promises, "You can count

High Quality Work Wins Big Job For St. Joe Firm

JACKSON - The Holland Construction Co. of St. Joseph has been awarded the architec-tural (building) contract for a new $6 million campus center for Jackson Community college despite the fact its bid was only third lowest.

The St. Joseph construction firm was given the contract over two lower bidders, according to a prepared statement by Colleg Board Chairman George E. Potter, because of a reputation for quality of work, respon-sibility and reliability".

Said Potter: "Of the three bound hidders for the architecwork, the only one for which no criticism was received from outside sources as to quality of work, responsibility and reliability was Holland Construction Co."

The contract to Holland is for $1,570,000. A total of 14 contractues bid on the architectural work with bids ranging on up to á top of $4,198,800.

The college board chairman also said in explanation of accepting the third lowest bid that Holland was the only one of the three for which inspection of its job sites disclosed no problems with quality of work." He indicated his statements were based on a study of the major bidding firms by the architect for the project, John H. Dabwident of Kressbach & Dabbert Architects. The board of trustees bypassed the lowest bid of the nonunion Collinson Construction Co. of Midland which had offered a combined hid of $4 952 000 for both the work. The Collinson bid was not broken down between architec-tural and mechanical, but its combined bid was $115.500 wer than the $3,579,000 bid of Holland and a $1,497,000 low, winning 1-id of Phoenix Con-

Begin Allergy Treatments At Birth

NEW YORK - The older a child is before he shows allergic symptoms, the less severe they are likely to be and the more easily they can be treated, says a Harvard pediatrician who recommends parents with recommends parents with allergies institute a system of prevention the moment a child is born.

"There seems to be a threshold of tolerance for allergle stimuli that gradually increases with age," Dr. T. Berry Brazetton, professor of pediatrics at Harvard, reports in the January issue of Redbook magazine. "Although any child can be quite allergic to thing, such as cat hair or chocolate or fish and blossom out with his symptom after just one exposure, most children build up allegeries over time (and) once the allergenic symptom is out in the open, it is harder to get rid of."

Therefore, Dr. Beszyllan

Therefore Dr. Brazelton recommends the following approach for parents with family histories of allergies:

"I urge that a mother in an allegeric family try to breast-feed her infant. I have never seen a baby who was allergic to his mother's milk, although I have seen far too many who were sensitive to cow's milk.

"Next in importance for new parents is to see that the baby's bed be free of allergenic toys and that his lovey be made of synthetic materials. Pure, mild soaps must be used for his bath and for his clothes. Unfortunately, traces of detergents stay in clothes and produce skin rashes in sensitive infants. "The likeliest reason for setting off skin rashes in an infant under one year old, however, is the introduction of a new food to which he may be sensitive. In order to avoid the problem of adding too many food challenges at once, I urge that a mother wait as long as possible over the first three months to start any baby food at all.

"When new foods are started, add only one at a time, waiting at least a week or 10 days before adding another. Never use mixtures of foods unless only one ingredient represents a new challenge." Then if a child does react negatively to a new food,

Good Buys At Auctions

Now is the time to get in your bids at auctions before the savings - sometimes as high as 40 to 60 per cent - are going, going, gone

So says the January issue of Family Circle, which maintains that bargain finds can include anything from a $25 secondhard carpet that would have cost you $250 brand-new to a $55 fullsized couch that would have originally set you back $350 in

Other tips for making the most of auction opportunities:

 Some auctions are listed in local papers under headings such as Merchandise Offering, Antiques, Furniture and Business Opportunities. Check these and related sections if you don't find regular listings.

- Get yourself put on auction mailing lists, so you can receive notices when forthcoming events will be held. Check the

Seven Entrants

Seven young women will compete for the title of Miss Southwest Michigan 1977 Sunday. Jan. 2. at the Eau Claire middle school, Pipestone road, Eau Claire, at 7:30 p.m.

Competing will be Deborah Jean Knox, Edwardsburg; Sharon Lynn Ketcham, Coloma; Beverly Ann Finney, Niles; Karen Lee Johnson, Niles; Tonda Bian, Bangor; Rebecca E. Ross, Benton Harbor, and Elizabeth Maria Bazan, St.

The pageant which is a preliminary to the Miss Michigan and Miss America pageants, will include competition in talent, swimsuit, onstage personality, and judges conferences, according to Florine Isaac, executive direc-

Mrs. Isaac has announced the establishment of a full scholarship program which will be known as the Fister And Realtors-Miss Southwest Michigan Scholarships.

The amount to be awarded this year will $700: $400 to Miss Southwest Michigan 1977: $200 to the first runner-up, and $100 to the second runner-up.

In announcing the scholarship program, Dave Fister, president of Fister and Clements, Realtors, said "It is a distinct pleasure to be involved in the Miss America scholarship program on the preliminary level. It is the largest single scholarship program for women in the United States, and we are proud to be associated with it."

Walt Clements, vice president of the firm, said, "As an active participant in the Junior Miss program in the past, we are aware of the need for programs like this, and would encourage participation by other local ousinessmen as well."

Mrs. Isaac in expressing appreciation for the scholarship fund, said that scholarship awards of this size are in line with those awarded by other Miss America local preliminary pageants. The Miss America program, on a nationwide basis, awards over $1 million annually in scholarships.

Leo Isaac, FM director of radio station WHFB, Benton Harbor-St. Joseph, will be master of ceremonies for the pageant. He has served as master of ceremonies and as judge in several Blossomtime contests, the Berrien County Apple Queen contest, and in preliminary pageants in Muskegon, Midland, Bangor, and Wyoming.

He and Mrs. Isaac were chairmen of the Benton Harbor Blossomtime contests in 1971 and 1973 and he has judged the Indiana university homecoming Parade Spectacular in Terre Haute and the National Football Hall of Fame parade in Canton, Ohio. Buchanan Woman Makes Hats

By MARYANNE BUTT Staff Writer

BUCHANAN - Technique marks the difference between amateurish work and a professional-looking creation, Mrs. Lee (Nadine) Hagey of Buchanan says, and her professional custom millinery proves her theory

Mrs. Hagey loves working with her hands and her hobbies include sewing, knitting, crocheting, needlepoint and some painting. But her most unusual hobby is hat-making, which she began after sending for a home study course she found in a magazine advertisement about six years ago.

"There is a technique for everything," she says. "Techniques will give a custom made look to every hat. All custom made hats are hand stitched. Neat, correct, and careful hand stitching has such an important effect upon the line and detail of custom millinery that its importance cannot be over estimated.

Mrs. Hagey says there are several personal factors which must be taken into consideration when making a hat. One of these is hue and color. "Color has its effect upon our daily lives, our work, our frame of mind and our moods," she says. "Certain colors will produce stronger reactions on some people than others.

Warm and cool colors will have an impression of force, and active advancing colors and passive receding colors will have an impression of weight.

Complementary colors not only harmonize by perfect contrast but when used in pairs, they supply balanced stimulation of the color sensitive nerves of the eye, she says.

"A custom milliner must be able to give their customer some helpful hints on what colors look best on her," Mrs. Hagey says. Colors can be selected by considering such factors as the person's age, size, is the texture of the fabric and light effect. "Colors will show considerable differences in daylight as they will in night time artificial lights."

A person's size also regulates exercise is necessary to weight Health: walk - don't ride,

Also taken into consideration the style of hats she may wear, according to Mrs. Hagey. For example, she says, "tall women should wear large picture hats with downward turned brims; short, plumper women should wear small to medium size hats with upward brims and perky trims; wide-hipped women should wear large shaped brims to help distribute the weight, and women with full-breasted figures should wear a happy medium, between a conservative and a showy hat."

The shape of a person's face must also be considered, she says. For example, a woman with a round face should not repeat her face outline by wearing hats with round brims. crowns or trimmings. Upward lines or irregular outline worn on the back of the head are more flattering.

Or, a woman with an angular shaped face should not repeat the angles by wearing hats that form additional angles, or that have pointed feathers and ribbon treatments. "Soft lines in flattering effects with front treatment of balance will be more becoming," she says.

Basic materials Mrs. Hagey uses in construction of hats include felts, weaves, fancy jerseys, raschel knitting, circular knitting, plain weave, ribbed weaves, herringbone twill weaves, twill weaves and basket

Mrs. Hagey, who says she custom makes hats mainly for friends and on a limited basis, resides at 302 Sylvan, Buchanan, with her husband Lee. They have seven children and one grandchild.

The advantage of custom made hats, according to Mrs. Hagey, is that they are originals. "The range of possibilities when a person works with hand-molded custom frames is almost limitless. You are bound only by the horizons of your imagination and the extent of your desire to create something new and different.

Dr. C. Glen King, formerly head of the Nutrition Foundation and currently member of the American Institute of Nutrition, suggests that we eat too much. We should taper down our appetites, or rather, cut back on our intake of foods.

"Don" loves me in return, but his wife is impossible. I cannot get the woman to take me seriously. When I phoned her and demanded to know why she refuses to give her husband a divorce, she thought it was the office clown playing a joke. So I invited her to my apartment for a confrontation. When she said she had no interest in meeting me, I said, "You'll hear from my attorney within three days." At that point she agreed to come over so we could talk.

When the woman walked into my apartment and I greeted her in my silk negligee, feathered

Two months ago, I got my hair cut and he refused to speak to me for three days. Now I need to get my hair trimmed again and he tells me if I do he won't speak to me for 15 days. According to him, a woman doesn't deserve "liberation" if she isn't earning a salary.

We don't need the money. We live in a lovely house with a swimming pool. He sends his parents $100 a month.

I worked to put this man through college and felt guilty because the kids were with sitters and the house never looked right. Now that the kids are in school all day and I have time for myself, my husband tells me I'm worthless because I'm "not doing anything."

Tell me, Ann, as a nonworking wife and mother, what rights do I have? - Excess Baggage

Dear E.B.: The same rights as a working wife and mother.

If you intend to live out your years with that medieval tyrant, I recommend counseling before he reduces you to a cipher. Of course, HE'S that one who needs it, but you're the one who wrote.

Don't flunk your chemistry test. Love is more than one set of glands calling to another. If you have trouble making a distinction you need Ann's booklet, "Love or Sex and How to Tell the Difference." Dr. Lester Coleman

Why is it so difficult to find avaccine against virus diseases? - Miss D.L., Iowa Dear Miss L.

The greatest difficulty that is encountered is that there are so many different viruses that produce infections in the human. Several hundred different viruses are known to exist. There are probably hundreds more that have not yet been uncovered.

These are some of the diseases that are caused by viruses: Influenza, mumps, polio, hepatitis, chicken pox, measles, German measles. herpes, rabies, infectious mononucleosis and the common

Some viruses are spread to man from animals. Most of the others are transmitted from man to man, especially those that involve the respiratory and the intestinal tracts.

Scientists all over the world are constantly at work tracking down viruses and their variations, in the attempt to create vaccines that will totally obliterate the disease they

The effective vaccines that have been created for smallpox, measles, mumps, German measles, yellow fever, polio and influenza have given scientists great encouragement in the production of vaccines for almost every other virus that threatens man.

Time, money and the training of scientists and research workers will guarantee the creation of more and more remarkable life-saving vac-

Despite these great accomplishments it should be noted that thousands of children are not given the benefit of such protection, because of neglect or sheer indifference.

Every few weeks I develop an infection of the covering of my eye. The doctor calls it "conjunctivktis." Is there any way this can be eliminated, once and for all? - Mr. H.W.H., Miss.

Dear Mr. H.:

The conjunctiva is a very delicate membrane that covers the eye. All cases of so-called "repeated infections" of the conjunctiva are studied for the possibility of an underlying allergic condition.

Swelling, redness, itching and marked tearing of the eye are some of the symptoms. It is essential, after a complete eye examination, that bacterial cultures and smears be made in order to establish the correct diagnosis.

I recall a patient who had recurring infections in the eye. These were finally traced to the patient's eye drops, which were contaminated by his own germs. Every time he used the drops he would reinfect himself. It is wise, after each infection, to discard both the medicine and the eye dropper.

Indians who called them Sassamaneish. The cranberry has been called by a variety of Indian names, but it was the contracted to cranberry. Over the years, cranberries have collected an interesting and colorful history. Medicinal powers were attributed to them and local medicine men brewed cranberry poultices to draw poison from arrow wounds.

During the heyday of the clipper ships, American ships carried cranberries in their holds to be eaten by sailors to ward off scurvy, much as English sailors ate limes. They're still highly prized for their Vitamin C content, nutritional qualities and flavor.

The earliest record of cranberry cultivation was in 1816 in Cape Cod. Henry Hall discovered that cranberries grew larger where the soil was covered with a layer of sand, and as the berry grew larger, cultivation spread. Today, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Wisconsin, Washington and Oregon are the chief cranberry producing states, and produce they did this year.

Cranberries are in exceptionally large supply. This year's record crop is 15 per cent larger than last year and prices are the lowest they've been since 1969. Now's the time to buy and use and to also tuck a few extra bags into the freezer for mid-winter use. Cranberries usually disappear from produce counter shelves by mid-January, even when supplies

Cranberry Production

In Large Supply Now

As cranberries have become more available and popular, their uses have increased. They're now sauced, jellied, juiced, etc., and new recipes arrive yearly for relishes, salads, meat accompaniments, drinks and desserts. Their ruby red color and sweet-tart taste makes them a natural holiday and anytime item.

Snow-playing, skiing and simply vacationing children and adults might especially like this hot cranberry drink during the holidays. It's also a natural for open house and New Year's parties. Hua Says Civil War Averted

TOKYO (AP) — Communist party Chairman Hua Kuo-leng says that if the radicals led by Mao Tse-tung's widow had not been suppressed there would have been "a major civil war" and foreign aggression in China, the official news agency Hsinhua reported today. Black Areas Patrolled

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) - Police reinforcements were airlifted to Cape Town today to patrol black townships where militants and migrant workers have fought each other in bloody street buttles for three days. Police reportedly shot and killed two blacks in Langa township during the night when a stone-throwing erund of 500 persons attacked their patrol vehicles. Twenty four persons were killed in weekend rioting in Guguletu and Nyanga townships. The fighting and widespread arson first erupted Christmas night because the migrant workers, mostly Beca tribesmen from the newly independent Transkel district, had resisted the militants' call for a holiday buycott of shopping and

MICHAEL A. BRANDIC
A onict alderman

Bilandic Likely Heir To Daley

CHICAGO (AP) — The battle to succeed Mayor Richard J. To succeed Mayor riterard J. Daley apparently has been won by one of his neighbors, a quiet alderman with considerable cloud at City Hall who says Daley coaxed him into politics.

Michael A. Bilandic, the alderman from Daley's 11th Word way the Januita at the

Ward, was the favorite as the City Council met today to vote for temporary mayor.

"He's going to get it one way or the other," said Alderman
Vito Marzullo, a major machine power broker.

Bilandic appeared to have enough votes among the 50 atdermen who make up the council lo turn back any bid by Wil-son Frest, the City Council president pro tempore.

Frost said Monday night that "I am trying to get the votes" to challenge Bilandic, but Bilan-dic's backers said Frost had agreed not to run for temporary mayor in return for the chairmanship of the powerful City Council Finance Committee.

A coalition of blacks, including community newspaper publisher Gus Savage and the Rev. Jesse L. Jackson of Operation PUSH (People United to Save Humanity) had backed

"One thing is certain," said Marzullo, 77, "we're not going to let no outside rabble rousers run the City Council."

Datey died Dec. 20 of a heart attack after 21 years in office, setting off the power scramble. The aldermen must name one of their number as temporary mayor until a special election is set up within six months.

Bilandic has pledged not to run in the special election.

A quiet neighbor of the Daley family, Bilandic has said he entered the council only at the late nuyor's coaxing and would like to return to his law business as soon as the temporary mayor term expires. He, along with Deputy Mayor Kenneth Sain, Corporation Counsel William Quinlan and patronage chief Thomas Donovan, tried to as-sume power the night after

But Frost had claimed that, as president pro tempore of the council, he was automatically acting mayor. Nonetheless, he was locked out of Daley's fifth floor office at City Hall.

(AP) - The Michigan Supreme Court has upheld the conspiracy conviction of an FBI informant whose paid help led to the arrest of leaders of a massive Genesee County burglary ring. The court, ruling 3-3 on the case, affirmed the conviction of Archie Smyers for conspiring to burglarize homes and sell the goods. Officials said that as a paid FBI informant, Smyers acted as a fence for the burglary ring beginning in 1967 and gave authorities information that led to the arrest of the top two burglars. The ring was believed to have burglarized between 40) and 600 horses in the area during 1967, and sold the goods. The three Supreme Court justices who ruled against Smyers said, in effect, that he had actually had criminal intentions even though he was working with the FBI. Ruling to uphold Smyers' conviction were justices Mary Coleman, James Ryan and Lawrence Lindemer, all Republicans. Voting to reverse were Chief Justice Thomas G. Kavanagh, and justices G. DETROIT (AP) - An emergency insurance plan could avert a threatened New Year's Eve shutdown by Detroit area cab com-panies, according to Thomas Jones, state insurance commis-sioner. "I'm optimistic," Jones said Mooday. "We're very close to having this resolved, but it would be unfair to say that it has all been worked out." Stonewall Insurance Co. of Birmingham, Ala., cancelled coverage for 14 Detroit area cab companies effective 12:01 a.m. Jan. 1. So about 1,500 cabs, which serve an estimated 40,000 to 32,000 passengers daily, are scheduled to stop running on New Year's Eye. The Alabama company said Michigan's metault insurance law, which puts no limit on amounts which can be paid for medical claims, is the reason for the cancellation. Jones said Michigan's "assigned risk" program, established for drivers anable to obtain private insurance, could be the answer to the sate an injured worker for his year-round loss of earning capacity, the Michigan Supremo Court has ruled. The court said Monday that if a seasonal employe's work-related injury prevents him from getting an off-season job, worker's compensation benefits, paid by his employer must cover that loss. The 7-0 rating came in the case of Robert Gasparick, who worked for two weeks on pipeline construction for H. C. Price Construction Co., earning. $258.26 one week and $307.12 the next. The Price Co. challenged the decision by the Worker's Compensation Appeal Board that computed Gasparick's average weekly wage by averaging those two weeks' pay, and not by pro-rating his wages over a 52-week year. But the Supreme Court said it is clear that the legislature intended in certain instances that an employer bear the entire burden of an employe's injuries "despite the fact that the compensation paid will be in excess of the amount of actual wages that would have been earned" by the employe.

New Oil Spill Is

Contained His Conviction Upheld

MARCUS HOOK, Pa. (AP) -A work crew has contained an oil slick from a Liberian tanker that ran aground during a docking maneuver at a refinery here, spilling at least 134,000 gallons of crude oil into the Delaware River.

The slick was at least three miles long and extended two miles north of the refinery, about 15 miles down river from Philadelphia, and one mile south, a Coast Guard spokesman said Monday night.

He added, "We won't know the extent of the spill until daylight. You can't get an overall picture at night.

The Coast Guard said the 771foot tanker Olympic Games apparently lost power and struck a sand bar, rupturing its hull. while turning to dock at the BP. Inc., refinery

At the time, the 19-milliongallon capacity vessel was carrying 17 million gallons of Arabian light crude oil, according to a spokesman for Standard Oil of Ohio, which owns BP. Inc., and chartered the 771-foot tanker.

The Coast Guard said the oil appeared to be leaking from the vessel's port wing tank, below the water line.

After divers examined the damaged hull Monday hight, Samuel Baker, the Standard Oil spokesman, said repairs probably would be made today.

Joe Douglas, manager of Coastal Services, Inc., hired to clean up the spill, said the oil around the ship was contained shortly before 11 p.m.

Douglas said a 2,000-foot boom, supported in the water by plastic flotation devices, was installed by a 20-man crew to surround the leaking ship and prevent the oil from spreading. BP workers began unloading

Monday, and the oil walled in by the boom was skimmed off and pumped into a tanker truck. The ship is owned by the Red Bank Shipping Co. of Panama

LANSING, Mich. (AP) - The Michigan Supreme Court has upheld the conspiracy conviction of an FBI informant whose paid help led to the arrest of leaders of a massive Genesee County burglary ring. The court, ruling 3-3 on the case, affirmed the conviction of Archie Smyers for conspiring to burglarize homes and sell the goods. Officials said that as a paid FBI informant, Smyers acted as a fence for the burglary ring beginning in 1967 and gave authorities information that led to the arrest of the top two burglars. The ring was believed to have burglarized between 400 and 600 homes in the area during 1967, and sold the goods. The three Supreme Court justices who ruled against Smyers said, in effect, that he had actually had criminal intentions even though he was working with the FBI. Ruling to uphold Smyers' conviction were justices Mary Coleman, James Ryan and Lawrence Lindemer, all Republicans. Voting to reverse were Chief Justice Thomas G. Kavanagh, and justices G. LANSING, Mich. (AP) - A retired Detroit auto worker will try to add another $100,000 to his $116,000 lottery booty this Thursday, with competition from six lottery winners. John Richter, 66 collected the $116,000 on last week's Michigan Lottery television program and says he'll buy a new car and do some traveling with that money and whatever he can win on this Thursday's show. The six who will challenge Richter were selected at random from among 20 qualifiers who matched both the winning 2-digit and 3-digit numbers in a weekly Michigame drawing. The 14 who were not selected each receive $2,000. Those who will be on the show, however, will win at least $5,000. Hope For Detroit Cabbies

DETROIT (AP) - An emergency insurance plan could avert a threatened New Year's Eve shutdown by Detroit area cab companies, according to Thomas Jones, state insurance commissioner. "I'm optimistic," Jones said Monday. "We're very close to having this resolved, but it would be unfair to say that it has all been worked out." Stonewall Insurance Co. of Birmingham, Ala., cancelled coverage for 14 Detroit area cab companies effective 12:01 a.m. Jan. 1. So about 1,500 cabs, which serve an estimated 40,000 to 52,000 passengers daily, are scheduled to stop running on New Year's Eve. The Alabama company said Michigan's no-fault insurance law, which puts no limit on amounts which can be paid for medical claims, is the reason for the cancellation. Jones said Michigan's "assigned risk" program, established for drivers unable to obtain private insurance, could be the answer to the Shippers Discouraged?

It's NEWS TODAY In MICHIGAN

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Interstate Commerce Commission has been accused by one of its agencies of overlooking what it calls a railroad's efforts to discourage shippers from using Lake Michigan railroad car ferries. The ICC's Bureau of Investigations and Enforcement in Milwaukee also accused the commission of having "completely overlooked" the desire of several industries to continue using the ferries for cargo shipments. Businessmen say shipping by ferry to Michigan and points east is cheaper than sending it by rail or truck around the south end of the lake via Chicago. Railroads have been asking ICC permission for years to abandon the ferries, which they say are losing money. The ICC's investigators said in a report that the commission ignored a campaign by the Chesepeake & Ohio against its own ferries designed to reduce the business which railroads say is decreasing for simple want of shippers. "Significant amounts of traffic were diverted as a result of this unusual solicitation," the bureau said. Several Wisconsin and Michigan ports are involved in the ferry abandonment proposals. The bureau said Milwaukee "is the most subject to

Cover That Loss

LANSING, Mich. (AP) - A seasonal employer must compensate an injured worker for his year-round loss of earning capacity, the Michigan Supreme Court has ruled. The court said Monday that if a seasonal employe's work-related injury prevents him from getting an off-season job, worker's compensation benefits paid by his employer must cover that loss. The 7-0 ruling came in the case of Robert Gasparick, who worked for two weeks on pipeline construction for H. C. Price Construction Co., earning $258.26 one week and $307.12 the next. The Price Co. challenged the decision by the Worker's Compensation Appeal Board that computed Gasparick's average weekly wage by averaging those two weeks' pay, and not by pro-rating his wages over a 52-week year. But the Supreme Court said it is clear that the legislature intended in certain instances that an employer bear the entire burden of an employe's injuries "despite the fact that the compensation paid will be in excess of the amount of actual wages that would have been earned" by the employe.

Another Dime An Hour

LANSING, Mich. (AP) - Michigan workers covered under the minimum wage law will get a 10-cent-an-hour raise starting Jan. 1. The raise will boost the state's minimum wage to $2.30 an hour and bring Michigan in line with the current federal minimum wage, said state labor director Keith Molin. Workers eligible are those between 18 and 65 who work for employers with four or more employes at any one time during a calendar year. But the raise also will go to minors aged 16 and 17 who work in restaurants or stores where alcohol is sold or consumed on the premises. In that case, however, half of the firm's gross receipts must come from the sale of food or other goods, so that bar employes who are minors would not get the raise. Michigan farm workers also will get the new hourly rate plus an increase in the piece rate for harvesting certain crops, Molin said. Minimum wage workers will get another new benefit starting in May, when overtime pay will be required after 40 hours of work a week. Now, overtime is required only for hours in excess of 44.

Use One, Demolish One

DETROIT (AP) - Detroit city officials are about to demolish a city-owned downtown building at the same time they are paying to rent office space in another downtown location. The city spent nearly $270,000 to purchase the 20-story Cadillac Square Building two years ago. It is now spending another $270,000 to tear down the building, officials say. At the same time, the city is paying about $200,000 a year for five years to rent space in another downtown building. City officials estimate the $1 million used to rent 40,000 square feet of office space for the Commercial & Economic Development Department could have renovated both the exterior and interior of the 83,000square foot Cadillac Square Building. Development officials justify the expenditure, saying it is necessary to demolish the building to open the way for development of the adjoining Kern Block, which has long stoo

WARREN, Mich. (AP) - Thirty-one persons, most of them children, were overcome by carbon monoxide fumes Monday during a hockey tournament at an ice arena, according to Warren police. The 24 children and seven adults were treated at area hospitals and released. Investigators said the fumes apparently leaked from a propane-powered machine used to resurface the ice. Arena officials said a faulty ventilator system failed to draw off the fumes properly.

HEALTH DEFICIT, PRINTING?

Van Buren To Allocate Grant

By DENNIS COGSWELL Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — Van Buren county commissioners are expected to vote tonight to allocate the bulk of $46,361 the board has received in federal anti-recession funds for use in upgrading printing operations and helping eliminate a health department budget deficit.

An open hearing yesterday before the board's finance committee on how the funds should be spent failed to draw anyone but committee members and a reporter.

The finance committee decided informally to recommend to the full board at its meeting tonight that $23,000 of the funds be transferred to the health department to help wipe out a budget deficit.

Commissioners also said that they would recommend that an unspecified amount go toward the purchase of new printing equipment, and possibly the costs of moving present equipment from the courthouse to the basement of the new courthouse annex.

The funds, which are distributed by the Office of Revenue Sharing under the federal public works employment act, are designed to be spent for continuing services, rather than new programs, according to Commissioner Edwin Twitchell.

Twitchell said the board has already transferred $65,000 into health department accounts to help take care of a deficit estimated at $132,000. The remaining $67,000 of the deficit will be covered by $23,000 in anti-recession funds and $44,000 from federal revenue sharing, he said.

This will enable the health department to start 1977 "in the black", Twitchell said. The commissioner said the main reason for the deficit is that the department has about $105,000 outstanding for various federal programs for which it has not yet been reimbursed.

Commissioners had voted at their Dec. 14 meeting to have the state conduct an audit of the department's records. At that time, commissioners also voted to hold up payment of $61,561 in monthly health department claims until the deficit situation was straightened out.

The commission's aim, he said, is to keep the hopes for elderly housing alive. The move came in the wake of a city council decision on Dec. 20 to reject a request from a Kalamazoo developer who sought property tax relief for a proposed apartment project that would include 70 units for senior citizens and 30 units for families

The project originally started out as 100 units for senior citizens. But the state authority, which would provide the financing, recommended that 30 of the 100 units be built as townhouses for low and middle-income families.

The housing commission did not take a position for or against the inclusion of subsidized family housing in the proposed development last night, according to DeVinney. He noted, however, the city's Housing Assistance Plan adopted last year said the city did not need additional new construction to meet family housing requirements in the city.

DeVinney said the housing commission members last night felt the city council had acted "hastily" when it rejected the request for tax relief for the 70 elderly, 30 family unit arrangement recommended by state authority. He explained the members felt the council did not explain its reasons for rejection and should have acted to talk with the state to see if the family units recommended by the state could be dropped and the project returned to just units for the elderly.

Alderman Robert Warren, the city council representative to the housing commission, noted that South Haven should be commended for its act of conscience in attempting to provide adequate housing, but he contended that the community is becoming "an ADC bedroom".

"No other governmental unit in Van Buren county has addressed itself to the problem of housing," said Warren. "We have reached the point where South Haven is not just taking care of South Haven's housing problems, but everyone else's too."

Fellow housing commissioners criticized Warren and other aldermen for the hastiness of their decision on the VanderVeen request, noting that the matter has been under study for nearly two years. VanderVeen Construction Co. of Kalamazoo is the developer.

Warren said he believed most councilmen recognized the need for more housing for the elderly, but that public sentiment was very strong against the likelihood of additional subsidized family-type housing in South Haven.

DeVinney reported that it appears there are no federal financing sources for construction of elderly-type housing projects. New federal funding appears to give priority to homes with large families, according to DeVinney.

In other matters, the commission authorized increasing the monthly utility allowance for its tenants in the family housing program from $51 to $54. The allowance was increased in light of recent hikes in the cost of electricity and natural gas.

The commission was notified by HUD that it is okay for DeVinney to work part-time for the city in administering its new community block grant

Lawrence Lions Donate $1,500 For School Playground Project

LAWRENCE — The Lawrence Lions club has donated $1,500 to the Lawrence school district to be used for improvements to the elementary school playground. School officials said a playground improvement committee has been named to study proposed improvements. Serving on the committee are Mike Schutz, elementary principal; Helen Lebeda, playground supervisor; Lester Hagberg, Lions club representative; Betty Judd, school board member and former teacher; and four students, Tim Lebeda, Jim Dwyer, Cheri Ferrell and Melanie Heuser. The committee is seeking suggestions from both students and parents. Some improvements already proposed for the playground include installing tether ball poles; building obstacle courses from tires; repairing the fence on the north side of the tennis court; and allowing older students to build playground devices from tires.

Cass Prisoner Hangs Himself

CASSOPOLIS — An Elkhart, Ind., man who was a prisoner in the Cass county jail hanged himself shortly after 8 a.m., Monday, according Cass county Sheriff James Northrop.

Northrop identified the dead man as Dyke Hudson Gillespie, 45, who had been arrested about 2 a.m. Monday and lodged in the jail on a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicating

The sheriff said Gillespie, alone in a holding cell, attached part of his shirt to the upper part of the bars on the cell door and tied the other end around his neck. He then slumped downward, causing the makeshift noose to tighten.

In a preliminary ruling, a deputy county medical examiner, Dr. David Speers of Niles, termed the death a suicide. An autopsy was to be conducted, a sheriff's spokesman added.

In a statement on the death, Northrop reported the jailer first had checked with Gillespie at about 8 a.m. At about 8:05 a.m., Gillespie asked for cigarettes and when the jailer returned, he found Gillespie sagging against the bars.

Dr. Speers pronounced him dead at the jail. He left no notes, a sheriff's spokesman said.

Deputies said Gillespie was arrested after his car was stopped on M-62 near Kingsbury street, just northwest of Cas-

Free Press Will Build In Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Free Press has announced plans for the construction of a $37 million production facility on the Detroit riverfront.

The facility will contain a pressroom, 36 highspeed offset press units, a mail room and a paper storage area, according to Lee Hills, publisher, and Lee Guittar, president and general manager.

The new facility will be located on 22 acres of riverfront property west of Cobo Hall. Construction is scheduled to be completed by early 1979.

Officials said Monday the newspaper will continue to use its present building for its news, sales and administrative operations. But future plans call for all offices to be moved eventually to the new site.

"We believe in Detroit and the renaissance of its downtown area," Hills said. "Our decision reflects our confidence in this great city."

Brandywine's 7-0 record equals the school's best start in history

Two keys for the Bobcats, who share the Blossomland league lead, have been balanced scoring and stingy defense.

Brandywine has four players in double figures with Tony Harris averaging 16.4, Greg Bestle and Jim Rzepka 13.4 and Ed Pilarski 10.8.

The Bobcats have limited foes to only an average of 55.7 points per game. Brandywine has yielded 60 points or less in nine straight games.

The Lancers, who have dropped three consecutive games, could give the Bobcats a run for their money if they get their act together. 'That's true, if we can play both offense and defense on the same night we'll be tough," commented Lakeshore Coach Lloyd MacTavish. "It's just a matter of putting it together.

"Brandywine certainly is a very balanced club and they run a very disciplined offense. Poor offensive rebounding and turnovers have hurt the "We've turned the ball over 32 per cent of the time we've had noted MacTavish. "We're aiming to cut down on those turnovers.

Tom Jager paces Lakeshore in both scoring and rebounding, averaging 14.7 points and almost 10 rebounds a game. Odell Brister follows with his 11.8 scoring average while Larry Toth is at 9.8

Three Rivers, a member of the Wolverine conference, is experiencing a rebuilding season with only one starter back from last year's 10-11 squad. Mark Yoder, a guard, is the lone Three Rivers player hitting in double digits with his 18 point average. The Wildcats' tallest player is only 6-21/2.

Tickets will be available at the doors, which open at 6 p.m. Ticket prices are $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for students. Covert is the heavy favorite in the Lawton tourney. The Bulldoes, ranked 11th in the latest Associated Press Class D poll. have posted an impressive 7-1 mark going into the tourney.

Sophomore Jerry Starks head the balanced Covert scoring attack with a 14.9 scoring mark. Also in double figures for the Bulldogs are Robert Maggard (14.0) and James DeBoe (12.0).

Lawton is winless in five games. Forward John Lepley is the top Blue Devil scorer with a 16.4 average.

Cass and Bridgman both bring perfect 5-0 records into their clash. Both the Rangers and Bees are among southwes-Michigan's offensive leaders. Cassopolis is averaging 77.6 points per game, while Bridgman stands at 75.8.

Forward Kevin Loder tops the Ranger scorers with a 23.0 mark. Glen Hawkins (12.8) and Marshall Sinclair (12.6) are also averaging in double digits.

Bob Linke (19.4), Howie Mutz (12.4) and Tom Meredith (12.2) top the Bridgman scorers.

Michigan Lutheran, the area's top defensive team, will be after its fourth straight win against New Buffalo. The Titans have limited their last two opponents to less than 30 points.

Rams Claim Knox Will Stay

Lions Deny Staff Firing

DETROIT (AP) - The Detroit Lions have denied firing Coach Tommy Hudspeth and his staff in hopes of luring Los Angeles Rams Coach Chuck Knox to Detroit.

Officials of both National Football League clubs on Monday denied that Knox is in line for a Lions' job.

Lions General Manager Russ Thomas said, "No one on the coaching staff has been dismissed. They were just given permission to pursue other job opportunities.

Thomas added that Hudspeth, who was named interim coach last fall after Rick Forzano resigned four games into the season, is among several can-said he could not rule out the possibility that Ford may have Carroll Rosenbloom, owner of the Rams, said Knox is staying in Los Angeles. "Chuck is my coach," Rosenbloom said. "I want him here and he wants to be here." "It's nice to be wanted," Knox said. "But I haven't heard anything from Detroit and I don't know anything about it.' Knox, a former assistant with the Lions, is under a multi-year contract with the Rams. Los Angeles lost the National Football Conference championship game with Minnesota Sunday, When the Lions finished the season two weeks ago with a 6-8 record, Ford said he wanted to talk with Hudspeth before choosing a permanent coach.

Ford has since met with Hudspeth twice, but the only statement which has evolved is that Hudspeth is still a "strong candidate" to become the Lions' fulltime coach next season. "I would rather not talk about my situation," Hudspeth said. "I know what I am going to do, but I think there should be an announcement from the club. Hudspeth had been the Lions personnel director before he was named interim coach.

White Wins Rookie Honor

NEW YORK (AP) - Sammie White of the Minnesota Vikings, who led the National Conference touchdown catches and receiving yardage, was named The Associated Press' National Football League Offensive Rookie of the Year today.

The selection of the 5-foot-11. 190-pounder from Grambling, Minnesota's No. 2 draft choice (behind Oklahoma State defensive tackle James White), was overwhelming. Sammy, who hauled in 10 TD passes during the regular season, got the vote from 49 of the 84 sports writers and broadcasters, three from each NFL team.

Los Angeles quarterback Pat Haden, the Rhodes scholar from Southern Cal by way of the defunct World Football League, was second in the balloting with 10 votes. Pittsburgh quarterback Mike Kruczek from Boston College was next with seven.

THE BOTTO

Others receiving votes included running backs Clark Gaines of the New York Jets and Archie Griffin of Cincinnati, and quarterback Jim Zorn of Seattle.

Sammie White more than took over where John Gilliam left off, Gilliam played out his contract with the Vikings in 1975 and signed with Atlanta. In his last year in Minnésota, Gilliam had 50 receptions for a team-high 777 yards. In his first year in Minnesota, White had 51 receptions for a conference-high 906 yards and was select the NFC Pro Bowl squad.

His biggest games of the season came against Los Angeles, Miami and Detroit. Against the Rams he had nine catches for 139 yards and a touchdown. At Miami he had nine receptions for 120 yards and three TDs. And against the Lions he had seven catches for a club-record 210 yards and two None of this seems to have surprised the Vikings.

"Wide receiver comes down to athletic ability — running, jumping and catching," said veteran quarterback Fran Tarkenton, who almost always looked in White's direction when he needed a big play. "We thought all along that Sammie had the talent and the ability,

White, of course, doesn't deny he deserves the honor and attention he is getting. But he says it's not all his own doing.

sending some of the traffic to Michigan.

"It's just been sensational," said Jim Brunackey of Traverse

On Christmas Day, the weather was below freezing and featured

Erickson said Saturday business has been very good, but he expects it to improve even more in the next few days, when many resorts begin their special holiday package rates.

Erickson said the best conditions in Boyne Country's 29-year history could draw as many as 15,000 skiers to the area by early this week, and that would set a record.

Unseasonably cold weather since fall has allowed resorts all over the state to build up bases of six to 36 inches of snow.

City, who purchased the Holiday Resort near Grand Traverse Bay this season after managing it for six years. On Christmas Day, the weather was below freezing and featured 12 inches of solidly packed snow at Holiday Resort. More than 300 skiers spent the day there.

Hotels and motels in the Traverse City area and elsewhere in the ski centers of the state were filled or near capacity over the holiday weekend. "This has really been a break for me, because a new owner can get blitzed in the pocketbook pretty fast if it doesn't snow," said

Brunackey on Saturday "That's been happening to some northern resorts. But we've got 12 inches of packed snow and four more of new snow - the best northern Lower Michigan. Erickson said Saturday business has been very good, but he expects it to improve even more in the next few days, when many resorts begin their special holiday package rates

Erickson said the best conditions in Boyne Country's 29-year history could draw as many as 15,000 skiers to the area by early this week, and that would set a record.

Unseasonably cold weather since fall has allowed resorts all over the state to build up bases of six to 30 inches of snow

It was the general concensus of the residents that such a rezoning would open the land to any type of business. The township board is expected to act on the planning commission's recommendation at its next regular meeting.

No-Lawyer Rights Limited

LANSING, Mich. (AP) - A defendant does not have the absolute right to act as his own attorney in a trial, the state Supreme Court has ruled. Despite a constitutional right to self-representation, the court said a defendant can only reject his right to a lawyer if he does it clearly, voluntarily and intelligently, and if the action dues not greatly inconvenience the court. The court affirmed a Kent County Circuit Court ruling denying the requea defendant to dismiss his attorney. The court said he was not competent to make the request. But it reversed a similar Wayne County Circuit Court ruling, saying the defendant made a clear request to defend himself and asserted his rights intelligently and voluntarily. In the first case, Donny Anderson was convicted of armed robbery after the judge refused to let him defend himself. In the second case. Howard Overby was convicted of assault with intent to commit morder after he repeatedly expressed dissalisfaction with his alturney but was required to keep him.

The Weldun spokesman said apprentices will compete in the regional competition. He said eight are from Weldun while the others are from six firms located in western Michigan or southwestern northern Indiana

The contest will center around each individual apprentice be-ing given the same project with eight-hour shift being alluted in which to complete it

In preparation for the contest, Weldun will be teceiving five 13-inch lathes from South Bend Lathe, and three 15-inch lathes from Clausing Lathe of Warsaw.

Apprentices at Weldun International, Bridgman, participating in the contest include Steve Lentz, Baroda; Bill Gerold, Dick Lundy, Niles; Bruce Nitz, Stevensville; Ron Payton, Bridgman: Bob Skalecki, New Buffalir, Dong Stone, Berrien Springs; and Rodney Wesner,

Store-Gas Station Development Outlined At Coloma

COLOMA - Tentative plans for building a gasoline stationconvenience store development and a car wash here were outlined for the Coloma city commission last night.

Kenneth Clayton, identified as the proposed leasee of the station-store combination, told the commission the projects were being proposed by the Swan Oil Co., Benton Harbor.

The station-store development would cost between $150,000 to $175,000, while the car wash would cost an estimated $130,000, the commission was

According to Clayton, the firm is seeking the service station now owned by George Wooley on Church street at Center street as the site for the store-station combination. Property off South Paw Paw street and owned by City Commissioner Robert Wooley, son of George Wooley, is being considered as the site for the car wash, Clayton reported.

Clayton said he was appearing before the commission to get reaction to the store-station

Randall appointed two members of the commission, Fred Munchow and William Weybright, along with himself, meet with Watervliet township officials for discus-

Planners Reject Pro Shop Request

BUCHANAN — The Buchanan township planning commission last night unanimously voted to recommend to the township board that a rezoning request for the Brookwood Golf course pro shop property be denied. The request to rezone the threequarter acre of land where the pro shop is located would change the use from recreational to commercial and was submitted by owner Douglas Bobo of Buchanan. The property is located on the Niles-Buchanan road Commission action came after some 20 township redidents. mostly from River Shores subdivision which lies across the road from the shop, attended the public hearing protesting the request. It was the general concensus of the residents that such a rezoning would open the land to any type of business. The township board is expected to act on the planning commission's recommendation at its next regular meeting.

New TV Comedy Star A Newcomer

By JAY SHARBUTT

AP Television Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — This has been a good year for Judith Cohen. We pause now as everyone says, "Who?" They'll learn who if they tune in the Jan. 19 premiere of CBS' new omedy, "A Year at the Top." The Norman Lear series concerns an aged quartet of vaudevillians who give their souls to the devil in return for a year of youth, a year of success as a music group in today's pop music world. Miss Cohen, a Baltimore, Md.; native with but four years of professional performing, was signed this year to play the mod version of one of the old troupers, played by virill Blaine.

"It's kind of wonderful," the young singer-actress said in a soft, husky voice. "It's like a dream that this could really happen. But it can. It truly

Things commenced happening this year, she said, when CBS casting director Pat Kirkland watched her work as a singer at a new-talent club called Reno Sweeney's in the hamlet called New York.

She said Kirkland urged Lear to consider her for a part. She originally was to be considered for the role of Bernadette Peters' roommate in CBS' "All's Fair." But when Lear came to Gotham, she was leav-ing for a gig in Florida. She said the rest happened this way: He asked her when she'd be working again at the New York club. She told him. He said he'd try to be there opening night. He was. A week later, he signed her for a guest shot on "Good "Good

All of which is quite a leap forward for the red-haired Miss Cohen, who put in a year at Towson College in Maryland, then dropped out to study acting and to act and sing in Fun City She began as a professional when she auditioned for a part in an off-Broadway improvisa-tional play, "The Proposition."

"It was the first thing I'd ever tried out for, and I was very lucky," she said. Meaning she gut the job her first time out.

Nine months later, she landed a part in another off-Broadway show called "42 Seconds From It immediately. How d she feel about that setback?

"To be honest, I'd never done Equity (plays requiring union actors, union pay) or anything like that before," she said. "So it was an incredible working experience for me. I loved it.

"It something ends abruptly like that, you don't give up. So I just went on."

While seeking other acting jobs, she also launched her singing career, backed by a quartet consisting of piano, bass, drums and cello. She drew favorable reviews for her work at Reno Sweeney's.

To sing in clubs, one usually needs music arrangements. Which cost some bucks. But Judith Cohen, a self-described Lucky lady, was lucky even in this regard.

The permit, submitted to the Detroit office of the Army

Water Resources has been mapping cropland for years, using photos from low-flying aircraft and field agents on the ground. Until now, however, there has never been a comprehensive survey Idaho's irrigated farmland

Murland Packer, chief of Water Resources' Bureau of Technical Studies, explained that cost of a ground and lowlevel survey, unaided by sa-

Reports Threats

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP) — A former roommate of Ku Klux Klan members at this Marine base says he heard Klansmen threaten to harm blacks and saw weapons, including knives and a .357 magnum revolver, they allegedly had stored in their tellite, would be prohibitive.

"We've never known, exactly how many irrigated acres we have in the state," he said. "But this system is going to be very cost-efficient and is giving us information, we never had information we never had before."

Using satellite images taken in the summer of 1975, Water Resources officials studied three test projects along Southern Idaho's Snake River. The Snake, with its tributaries and associated underground flows, is the source of most of Idaho's irrigation water

Now, Packer said, the department is in the process of mapping most of Idaho's irrigated land south of the Salmon River. That stream is a dividing line between northern Idaho, where there is abundant rainfall, and southern Idaho, where cultivation requires

Idaho's Department of Lands is just beginning its forestry in-ventory project. The state has nearly 900,000 acres of com-mercial state-owned timber and ranks in the top-three states in U.S. National Forest acreage, as

Ray Miller, department research chief, said satellite imagery may offer a way to differentiate between stands of different kinds of trees.

He said the survey of the forests will present problems that the study on croplands did

One major difference between the two projects, Miller explained, is that crops owe their distribution to human be-ings and generally follow field patterns - a potato field here, a wheat field there, Naturally distributed trees may come in thousands of mixtures and variations. That makes it more difficult to differentiate between satellite imagery of a stand of, say, 70 per cent Dough's fir and 30 per cent grand fir and another of 50 per cent Douglas, 20 per cent grand and 30 per cent lodgepole

The entire project over the three states is funded by the Pacific Northwest Regional Commission through June 1977. Officials said the commission will spend $350,000, mostly on personnel salaries and travel, in fiscal 1977, with another $1.5 ing from NASA and USGS, Total cost of the three-year project is estimated at $4.6 million.

In Idaho, the Department of Water Resources was the first agency to use the computer maps, although the Department of Lands is now beginning its own project on state forest land.

Water Resources has been mapping cropland for years, using photos from low-flying aircraft and field agents on the ground. Until now, however, there has never been a comprehensive survey of Idaho's irrigated farmland.

Murland Packer, chief of Water Resources' Bureau of Technical Studies, explained that cost of a ground and lowlevel survey, unaided by sa-

Idaho's irrigation water. Now, Packer said, the department is in the process of mapping most of Idaho's irrigated land south of the Salmon River. That stream is a dividing line between northern Idaho, where there is abundant rainfall, and southern Idaho, where cultivation requires irrigation.

Idaho's Department of Lands is just beginning its forestry inventory project. The state has nearly 900,000 acres of commercial state-owned timber and ranks in the top-three states in U.S. National Forest acreage, as

New TV Comedy Star A Newcomer

By JAY SHARBUTT AP Television Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) - This has been a good year for Judith Cohen. We pause now as everyone says, "Who?" They'll learn who if they tune in the Jan. 19 premiere of CBS' new comedy, "A Year at the Top."

The Norman Lear series concerns an aged quartet of vaudevillians who give their souls to the devil in return for a year of youth, a year of success as a music group in today's pop music world.

Miss Cohen, a Baltimore, Md., native with but four years of professional performing, was signed this year to play the mod version of one of the old troupers, played by Vivian Blaine

Things commenced happening this year, she said, when CBS casting director Pat Kirkland watched her work as a singer at a new-talent club called Reno Sweeney's in the hamlet called New York.

She said Kirkland urged Lear to consider her for a part. She originally was to be considered for the role of Bernadette Peters' roommate in CBS' "All's Fair." But when Lear came to Gotham, she was leaving for a gig in Florida. She said the rest happened this way:

He asked her when she'd be working again at the New York club. She told him. He said he'd try to be there opening night. He was. A week later, he signed her for a guest shot on "Good

Buchanan Seeking Corps Approval To Dig, Backfill

DETROIT - The city of Buchanan is seeking permission for excavation and backfill at the site of the Alexander street bridge the city is proposing to replace.

The permit, submitted to the Detroit office of the Army Corps of Engineers, will be approved provided no written objections are filed with the engineers' office by 4:30 p.m. Jan. 5, a corps spokesman said.

The city plans to excavate about 400 cubic yards of material and backfill with about 400 cubic yards of material as part of the bridge replacement project.

Economic Plan May Cost Less--Carter

By FRANK CORMIER Associated Press Writer

ST. SIMONS ISLAND, Ga. (AP) - President-elect Carter is calling his cabinet into private session at this secluded island retreat to exchange views include a combination of tax on an economic stimulation program that he hints might be less expensive than originally anticipated.

The program is expected to

He said he expected by week's end to have "a mix" of economy-boosting measures in mind, but "the total amount might wait until after the first of the year." He said it would be premature "to spell out any exact amount of stimulus between job creation and tax reduction."

The former Georgia governor said earlier that he wanted to get the views of all his intended cabinet members, even those with no responsibility for economic affairs, about what should be done before reaching any conclusions on what sort of program to begin.

He also promised to meet next week in Georgia with appropriate leaders of Congress to help put finishing touches on the package he will present.

On another subject, Carter was asked on arrival here Monday about the likelihood of a 1977 meeting with Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev. Carter responded that he thought this "a likely prospect for 1977, although we have not made any plans for it."

A New State Office

LANSING, Mich. (AP) - A new state office will create a training program for mental health workers across Michigan. Dr. Donald Smith, director of the state Department of Mental Health, named Harvy Day of Ypsilanti, a registered nurse and educational psychologist, to head the new Division of Resource Development. Its job will be to decide what kind of training and education is needed by nearly 20,000 employes in state and county mental health programs.

Trooper Cutback Rapped

HOUGHTON, Mich. (AP) - Cutting back on Michigan State Police operations in the Upper Peninsula will leave vast areas of northern Michigan without adequate police protection, Congressman Philip Ruppe says. Ruppe, a Houghton Republican, criticized suggestions by the Michigan Efficiency Task Force that such cutbacks be made to save the state money. The cutbacks likely would reduce the round-the-clock operations of most posts, and transfer some or all of their personnel to other areas of the

Paw Paw Grant Bid Rejected

PAW PAW - Harry Bush, superintendent of public works, told the Paw Paw village council last night that the village's application for a $1,030,000 grant for sidewalk improvements under the federal public works employment act has been rejected.

Bush said he was told by a spokesman for the U.S. office of public affairs in Washington D.C. that the village's unemployment rate (8.8 per cent) and amount of substan-dard housing were not sufficient to qualify for the grant.

The village had applied for the grant to remove and replace 69,000 lineal feet of sidewalk and construct another 75,000 lineal

Q. I have had some New Jer-sey Bell Telephone bonds called for redemption. I can't decide how to invest the proceeds

A. If money rates continue to ease, we can expect that more and more of the bond issues floated in the earty part of the decade — at much higher coupons — will be called in and replaced at lower money costs. That's only natural.

Many of these bonds now being redeemed may have been bought directly from a member of the seiling group when the issue was first sold, and at no commission cost to the investor. This is an understandably popular method of acquiring bonds. But it does tend to blind investors to the fact that there are thousands upon thousands of bond issues always being traded and therefore available for investors — even if not at original issue prices. My point:

If you enjoyed owning the N.J. Bell 9.35s of 2010 there is absolutely no reason why you shouldn't be happy with the N.J. Bell 714s of 2011, the 714s of 2012 the 714s of 2016 and the 8s of 2016. All are rated AAA — which was the rating for the bonds called —

The Suds Have It

TOPSFIELD Maine (AP) - For the first time since Probabition, heer drinkers in this tiny Maine town today can buy their suds at the local grocery store. And town selectman George Bunker, owner of McBean's Market and a chanmion of liberated beer laws, can sell it. Until now in the rural com-munity of several faundred, about 90 miles from Bangar, beer drinkers had to drive many miles to buy a six-pack. On Wednesday, the Maine Executive Conneil in Augusta decided that who east a disputed ballot in a referendum had intended to vote in favor of beer sales at the grocery store. When the votes were counted last month, 120 of the 121 voters had split evenly — and the 121st ballot was ambiguous, with the numeral 6 in the yes box and "6A" in the no box. Since referendum question 6 was on heer sales, and question 6A would have allowed table wines to be sold in grocery stores, the state council decided that the voter favored beer sales, but not wine. The campaign had pitted Bunker against the Rev. Benjamin Bubar, who was the ansuccessful 1976 presidential candidate of the Probabition party. The Rev. Mr. Babar objected Wednesday, but it did no good. "Enjoy your profits, enjoy your profits." he tald Bunker later.

By SUSAN AGER

Associated Press Writer LANSING, Mich. (AP) State officials and spokesmen for a Chippewa tribe say they're not sure who won Monday when Michigan's Supreme Court handed down a ruling on Indian fishing rights. The high court said commercial fishermen from the Upper Peninsula Indian tribe need not be licensed, but the state has a "limited right" to regulate how and what they fish.

The 4-3 ruting came on a case which nitted the 550-member Bay Mills Indian Researation against the state in a battle over the meaning of federal treaties dated 1836 and 1855.

But the tribesmen and state officials alike were uncertain about what the court's ruling will mean for the future of Indian fishing on the lakes. Currently, 17 members of the Chippewa tribe make their liv-ing fishing Lake Superior, mainly for whitefish.

"It sounds reasonable, yet I'm not too sure," said Arthur LeBlanc Sr., chairman of the reservation near Sault Ste.

Michigan Solicitor General Robert Derengoski said the opinion indicated that a fishing regulation might be applicable to Indians and non-Indians alike if the state can show it is necessary to prevent depletion of various fish specie.

All fishing regulations could fall under that category, of-ficials said, which would put Indians under exactly the kind of rules they have been trying to

In its ruling, the Supreme Court said the Indians 'reserved' their right to fish most Great Lakes waters without state regulations under an 1836 federal treaty. Under that treaty they and an Ottawa tribe ceded to the United States the northern third of the Lower Peninsula and the eastern half of the U. P.

Waters involved include most of Lakes Michigan and Superior and the northern part of Lake

The court also said those rights were not relinquished under a subsequent treaty in 1855, as the state had claimed. It said though the words of the 1855 treaty could indicate the Indians had given up their

INVESTORS' GUIDE

Easy To Reinvest Bond Proceeds

By SAM SHULSKY Q. I have had some New Jersev Bell Telephone bonds called for redemption. I can't decide how to invest the proceeds.

A. If money rates continue to ease, we can expect that more and more of the bond issues floated in the early part of the decade - at much higher coupons - will be called in and replaced at lower money costs. That's only natural.

Many of these bonds now bebought directly from a member of the selling group when the issue was first sold, and at no commission cost to the investor. This is an understandably popular method of acquiring bonds. But it does tend to blind investors to the fact that there are thousands upon thousands of bond issues always being traded and therefore available for investors - even if not at original issue prices. My point:

If you enjoyed owning the N.J. Bell 9.35s of 2010 there is absolutely no reason why you shouldn't be happy with the N.J. Bell 71/4s of 2011, the 73/4s of 2012, the 73/4s of 2013, the 81/4s of 2016 and the 8s of 2016. All are rated AAA - which was the rating for the bonds called -

The Suds Have It

TOPSFIELD, Maine (AP) - For the first time since Prohibition, beer drinkers in this tiny Maine town today can buy their suds at the local grocery store. And town selectman George Bunker, owner of McBean's Market and a champion of liberated beer laws, can sell it. Until now in the rural community of several hundred, about 90 miles from Bangor, beer drinkers had to drive many miles to buy a six-pack. On Wednesday, the Maine Executive Council in Augusta decided that a voter who cast a disputed ballot in a referendum had intended to vote in favor of beer sales at the grocery store. When the votes were counted last month, 120 of the 121 voters had split evenly - and the 121st ballot was ambiguous, with the numeral 6 in the yes box and "6A" in the no box. Since referendum question 6 was on beer sales, and question 6A would have allowed table wines to be sold in grocery stores, the state council decided that the voter favored beer sales, but not wine. The campaign had pitted Bunker against the Rev Benjamin Bubar, who was the unsuccessful 1976 presidential candidate of the Prohibition party. The Rev. Mr. Bubar objected Wednesday, but it did no good. "Enjoy your profits, enjoy your profits." he told Bunker later and all are yielding around 8 per cent, which is a good rate for this quality in this money market To sum up: If your bond is called in, there's no reason you can't put the money right back into the same company via another bond issue. In most cases, the available bonds will enjoy the same rating. And the premium you get on the called bonds will almost always buy a hot lunch to boot. Q. I've just retired at 66. My assets consist primarily of an income-type mutual fund and cash in day-to-day savings. How do I get the mutual fund to send me dividends and capital gains by check? (They have always been reinvested.) Do I need the help of a lawyer?

A. Certainly not. All you need do is write to the fund and tell them that from now on you want the dividends and any gains sent to you instead of being rein-

The fund generates about 5 per cent, which is not as much as you could get from an allbond portfolio. But at 66 you could remain with it - at least until such time as you find that 5 per cent is not enough.

And while you are looking for income, why do you ignore the fact that you have substantial amounts of cash working at only 51/4 per cent? Must all that money be available on a day-today basis? Why not 71/2 per cent certificates?

Q. We entered into an annuity contract years ago and have been paying toward it ever since. We're told that our plan earns $275 (roughly) every year. but we never see any of it.

A. If you told them to accumulate the dividends, that is what they are doing. If you want the dividends, tell 'em so. Why do people sign up for lifetime contracts without first learning what they are doing? Q. We sent in our shares of a mining company on instructions from the company which said it was putting through a reverse split. But the new shares don't sell much higher. Have we been ripped off?

A. Could be. I don't know the company. And there's no law which says that new shares issued as a result of, let's say, a one-for-five reverse split must sell at five times the price of the old shares. If you deal in junk.

Edison Earnings Top 1975

DETROIT (AP) - Detroit Edison Monday reported earnings for the 12 months ended Nov. 30 were $80.9 million, or $1.59 a share, compared with $75.5 million, or $1.58 a share, for the previous year.

The utility said there were 50,866,632 common shares outstanding last month and 47,843,293 on Nov. 30, 1975. Improved earnings were credited to higher kilowatt-hour sales, higher rates and billing of a special $13.8 million surcharge as the result of an earlier Ingham County Circuit Court order.

Toilet Watching?

NORTH SMITHFIELD, R.I. (AP) - Nicholas Ludovici has spent the past year looking in the backs of toilets. And now he thinks he's found what he's been looking for. Ludovici has filed for a patent on a device that can be put in the back of toilets and which he claims can save two gallons of water every time a toilet is flushed — a saving of about 40 per cent. The impact of such a saving could amount to billions of gallons of water each year and could dramatically lessen pressure on the country's water resources, he said Monday. Ludovici, 50, said the device is made of a rubberized compound and forms a protective collar around the outlet of the toilet, creating a small dam that prevents some of the water from disappearing. He said he is negotiating with a national company to sell the rights to the product, which he has been building manually in

By SUSAN AGER

Associated Press Writer LANSING, Mich. (AP) State officials and spokesmen for a Chippewa tribe say they're not sure who won Monday when Michigan's Supreme Court handed down a ruling on Indian fishing rights.

The high court said commercial fishermen from the Upper Peninsula Indian tribe need not be licensed, but the state has a High Low Precip. "limited right" to regulate how 15 -2 .07 and what they fish. The 4-3 ruling came on a case which pitted the 550-member Bay Mills Indian Reservation against the state in a battle over the meaning of federal treaties dated 1836 and 1855.

But the tribesmen and state officials alike were uncertain about what the court's ruling will mean for the future of Indian fishing on the lakes. Currently, 17 members of the Chippewa tribe make their living fishing Lake Superior, mainly for whitefish.

"It sounds reasonable, yet I'm not too sure," said Arthur LeBlanc Sr., chairman of the reservation near Sault Ste. Marie.

Michigan Solicitor General Robert Derengoski said the opinion indicated that a fishing regulation might be applicable to Indians and non-Indians alike if the state can show it is necessary to prevent depletion of various fish specie. All fishing regulations could fall under that category, officials said, which would put Indians under exactly the kind of rules they have been trying to throw off. In its ruling, the Supreme Court said the Indians 'reserved' their right to fish most Great Lakes waters without state regulations under an 1836 federal treaty. Under that treaty they and an Ottawa tribe ceded to the United States the northern third of the Lower Peninsula and the eastern half of the U. P.

Waters involved include most of Lakes Michigan and Superior and the northern part of Lake Huron.

The court also said those rights were not relinquished under a subsequent treaty in 1855, as the state had claimed. It said though the words of the 1855 treaty could indicate the Indians had given up their

A tribe court found the ban on such whose mainstay was its fish would never have agreed to give gear to be a "reasonable and necessary conservation measure.

The state has contended the gill net ban will keep sport fish, the state still has "limited authority" to regulate Indian like trout, from being killed along with commercial fish.

Bob Haas, Great lakes fish biologist with the Department of Natural Resources, said Monday that the 17 Chippewa fishermen, if unregulated, unquestionably could have a 'very serious and destructive effect on the fish population" in the lakes

HOW TO MAKE FRIENDS WITH A MACHINE

Say on some coming Sunday at 3 p.m., between halves of a football game on TV, you suddenly realize certain bills are embarrassingly overdue. Say you live in Bridgeport, Conn., have both a savings and checking account at the Lafayette National Bank and Trust Co., and decide that the simplest solution is to transfer funds from your savings to checking account at once.

You dial a special phon number. The machine on a desk at the bank's main office and asks your name. It When you have answered, the machine recognizes it and asks the next question ses while you answer that and so on — through a series that gives the bank just what it has to know. First thing Monday morning, the bank takes the information from the machine and promptly transfers your funds. You don't have to drive your car, fight traffic, look for a place to park, stand in line. It's done so smoothly - at any time, not just after hours — you may not even know a machine is involved. Not that any of the banks promoting automated around-the-clock service all over the country for funds transfer, bill payment, loan transactions, etc., try to hide the fact.

Or let's say you live in Philadelphia, see in newspaper ads that Strawbridge and Clothier is advertising sweater you want and that the store invites your phone orders You do just that and the machine takes over.

A new concept, called "voice processing" — which is really nothing more than the automation of phone communications to handle a caller's request more efficiently - is being used more and more to (1) help customers shop more efficiently and (2) keep business costs down.

"Voice processing is a bridge between the verbal initiation of a transaction and the system, often automated, that executes that transaction," says Hobart C. Kreitler, a group vice president of Dictaphone Corp., a major supplier of telephone answering devices. With the new technology, you the caller are engaged in a dialogue that produces the information in a This is critical to securing the right service for you. At the same time, the machine eliminates the need for people to handle what is esen-tially routine business, particularly expensive after normal business hours.

The system also can improve services to individuals through strictly internal channels. For instance, to cope with the last-minute variables that can change a patient's diet, the Kingston General Hospital, On tario, Canada, has automated the communication between the nursing station and the nutri-

The nurse calls the office and the change is recorded — to be picked up later in the day or early next morning in time to ice the right meals at the right bedsides. Before automation, the hospital often required another day to get such change made, simply because nutrition might be closed or its personnel too busy to handle the phone orders adequately.

some people off. Kreitler candidly admits. "In their eyes, it's just another example of machines displacing people;" he says. "Or they just don't trust a machine to get it all down and report back, "Our nosition is that machines take on jobs that people should not be doing, either because they are too expensive or too routine and sometimes both."

who said, "It is impossible to rightly govern the world without God and the Bible." And. . . it's on this premise that Americans became a grand people. Sure there would be impending war and strife. But the people were fighting for what they had long been denied. that every man should have a right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. Reflecting on this right we were again reminded of its total meaning as Abe Lincoln stood in Gettysburg, Pa. at the graveyard of Civil War soldiers and said: "Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth upon this continent, a new nation; conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal." It took a while to breathe the breath of life into those words, but through the guiding hand of God we were able to understand the true meaning. We were able to understand about the equality of man thus leaving our nation once again in an undivided condition. Undivided we were able to set up a defense for those things that we truly believed and always be ready to defend it. And in defending this land a soldier was in effect preserving those things that meant so much to us.

The remaining wars were not fought on our homeland. But still the casualties were numerous. Think of the families who listened for the footsteps of the dead. . . waiting through the sad and lonely years for dear ones who never came. Think of the voiceless lips of those soldiers that if they could speak, what would they say about those who refused to serve our country. Think of the countless dead that if another chance were given them to serve, I'm confident we would all hear a resounding affirmation.

Every scar and every wound is a price we paid for freedom. Every star spangled flag that drapes our coffins is a symbol of freedom, and the price that was paid. Let's be proud of those war-etched faces that were men enough to fill our shoes. Let's lend a hand in wrapping their wounds because it's our responsibility.

Now that those wounds are healing, and the grass has grown green over our Viet Nam casualties. . . who knows when the call to arms will again be shouted. But until then that eagle of victory still holds its position atop our stripes and

But Old Glory knows it wasn't free. . . and Old Glory knows that there's more red in her banner than just the stripes.

U.S. LURES FOREIGNERS 'Doctor Drain' Deplored

By HARRY ATKINS

Associated Press Writer DETROIT (AP) — About half the new physicians in the U.S. since 1963 have been drained from foreign countries that can illafford the loss, a situation many doctors in this country find deplorable

"I think that when historians hook back at this period they'll say the worst thing we did was the Vietnam war," said Dr. Marilyn Heins of the Wayne State University Medicat School, "and the next will be the brain drain."

Nearly 67,000 foreign medical graduates migrated to the U.S. between 1965 and 1973, according to Science magazine. By 1973 they comprised one-third of the hospital staff physicians and one-fifth of all doctors.

Iranian medical schools graduated 701 doctors in 1972, ecording to the Journal of Medical Education, and 485 of them migrated to the U.S.

"There are currently more Filipino physicians practicing in America than there are black American medical graduates, said Dr. Solomon Axelrod of the University of Michigan School of Public Health. "These doctors are desperately needed in Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, the American Continental Congress, meeting in Bal-timore, began work on a letter to the states to explain the extensive power granted to General George Washington.

$215 Million Overpaid In Food Stamps

WASHINGTON (AP) - The government paid out almost $215 million in food stamps to people who were ineligible for the aid they got during the first six months of 1976, the Agriculture Department says.

The report, released Monday, adicated that about nine cents of each dollar spent on the food stamp program is paid eruneously. The program costs taxpayers about $5.7 billion anmually, with $5.3 billion paying for the administration of the

"After studying here, many of them are overtrained in respect to their own country's needs," Avelred said.

Many foreign medical schools have much larger classes than U.S. schools, Dr. Axelrod said, and opportunities for clinical studies are limited.

The trend may soon be reversed, however, since recent changes in immigration laws make it more difficult for doctors to stay here.

Next year, too, under legisla-tion passed in the last Congress, American medical schools will e forced to accept a quota of aird-year Americans now third-year

But such efforts to control the immigration of foreign medical students could boomerang because there are annually almost twice as many resident or intern slots oven in U.S. hospitals as there are domestic medical graduates to fill them.

In 1969, there were 15,000 such slots to be filled and only 8,900 domestic graduates available, according to Dr. Yvan Silva, a professor at the Wayne State University Medical School. "This resulted in hospitals actually going abroad to recruit doctors.\' Dr. Silva said American schools now are expanding so that the U.S. is entehing up with its own health manpower needs.
